

CPQD Telecom & IT Solutions

Along its path, CPqD has always played a strategic role in telecommunications sector. In the first years, it was mainly focused at the emerging technologies, researching, developing and transferring to the industry many high technology products. Between 1976 and 1998, CPqD contributed effectively in the creation of a "national intelligence" in the telecommunications and information technology fields and, following the privatization process that took place in Brazil, CPqD became a private foundation.
